

The State of Pride & LGBTQ+ Support

Family support has been shown to protect LGBTQ+ youth mental health.

- The Family Acceptance Project

About 75% of LGBTQ+ youth say at least one family member supports their identity.

- The Trevor Project

LGBTQ+ youth are over four times more likely to try to harm themselves than other young people.

- The Trevor Project

Studies show that children of same-sex parents do as well socially, emotionally and academically as kids raised by heterosexual parents.

- BMJ Global Health

Ally (n.)

Someone who stands up for LGBTQ+ people and their rights.

Visit LucetHealth.com to view the

Pride & LGBTQ+ Support Toolkit